

Non-Compete & Non-Solicitation Agreement

This Agreement is entered into between the Company and the Individual identified below, in connection with the Individual's employment or engagement with the Company.

Company Name

Individual Name

Effective Date

1. Non-Competition. During the Restricted Period and within the Restricted Territory below, the Individual agrees not to engage in any business that directly competes with the Company's business as described below.

Restricted Period (e.g. 12 months after termination)

Restricted Territory

Description of Company's Business

2. Non-Solicitation. During the Restricted Period, the Individual agrees not to solicit the Company's employees, contractors, or customers for a competing purpose. 3. Reasonableness. The parties agree the restrictions above are reasonable in scope, geography, and duration to protect the Company's legitimate business interests.

Governing Law (State / Country)

Company — Signature (type full name)

Individual — Signature (type full name)

Date

Date

Non-compete agreements are heavily regulated and, in a growing number of U.S. states and other jurisdictions, banned or narrowly restricted for most workers (including, as of recent FTC rulemaking activity, potentially unenforceable for most employees in the United States generally — verify current law before relying on this). Enforceability turns entirely on jurisdiction-specific law. Have a qualified employment attorney review this before use.